DON'T LET THE BEAR BLOW YOUR IMAGE

Manage the Coming Crash Like a Pro ... And Get Rich

Grab the tools you need to

- ❑ Save your assets and your family
- AND
- ❑ Profit like never before
while you still have time

Dear Investor,

If you own bonds or bond funds, you are in for devastating losses. Last time a bear market began, if you didn't get out of the way you lost a massive 75% on your bonds.

Believe me, if you own bonds, you're not alone. American investors gobbled up $671 Billion dollars worth in the past six years. That's more than twice what they pulled OUT of stocks in the same time frame.

Many people, maybe like you, were disgusted with the sideways stock market. They were embarrassed about their own poor returns. They felt angry and uncertain about everything from politics to terrorists to the economy.

Hoping for nothing more than safety, hundreds of thousands of investors crowded into bonds.

As of December 2016, they were willing to accept just about no interest. That has never happened before.

Until now: "There were no negative bond yields in 5,000 years of recorded history," according to Dr. Richard Sylla, of New York University.

Yet in the past 35 years interest rates have fallen from 16.69% in October 1981 to 0.09% on 9/23/16.

That tells us that the unbelievable demand for bonds – that has accelerated frantically in the last 10 years – has pushed bond prices sky high to levels not seen in 97 years! (When bond prices go up rates go down.)

Everything will be swept up in it. Bonds, stocks, commodities, precious metals, currencies. Everything.

If you're still in bonds you're in for big trouble. You'll be stuck in a losing investment of historic proportions.

What's more, the catastrophic change brought on by falling bond prices will break up the investment landscape in ways you may not recognize.

Suddenly some investments will be pure poison for your portfolio. Others will skyrocket without warning.

Unless you know which is which in this upheaval, you will lose. Here's what you're facing now:

- ❑ Bonds and bond funds will collapse
- ❑ Stocks will rise for a while longer and then begin a hard fall
- ❑ High growth stocks will be especially hard hit
- ❑ Some few stocks will benefit from the same forces that will slaughter others. You will need to know the difference.

As your holdings start to disintegrate, beginning with bonds and bond funds, you may ask yourself with a sinking heart: "If this keeps up, will I have time to make up the losses before my kids are ready for college? Will I even have time to rebuild our retirement savings?"

"For sure, I'll have to forget about a new car. And the Mediterranean cruise we were hoping to take this summer."

Underneath it all you will have an uncomfortable feeling: “What will my wife think of me? What kind of a manager of our finances am I anyway?”

“And what happens to my reputation with our friends and everybody at work? They think I’m this amazing investment genius.”

The thought shouldn’t make you feel less of a man – but for some reason it does.

I invite you to step back from these very real but avoidable (if you know what to do) dangers.

Please accept my brand new Free Report Benefit from the Bear designed to show you exactly how to place an ironclad “wall” around your wealth

I’ll show you what you must do RIGHT NOW as this dangerous bond bust is beginning to unfold.

You can download your copy absolutely free.

Normally, you would pay $49.00 for the Report, including our proprietary “Sophisticated-Investor” tools. But I’m offering it to you today free of charge for a specific reason.

A colossal collapse is bearing down on our markets. I want to show you the steps you must take immediately to protect your wealth - before it’s too late - and to give you a shot at the gigantic profits that even bear markets can give.

And, in just a few minutes, I will show you how to get four bonus books, explaining all the moving parts of what’s happening, and what it means to you.

Those books will detail how to see through the upheaval to the crosscurrents that abruptly shift sectors, stocks, bonds, commodities, and currencies.

Before your eyes some investments will whip around from the best to the worst.

You will learn how to get out of the way of the “bombs” and scoop up the new leaders.

Chaotic conditions sometimes unleash spectacular profit opportunities. I'll lay out clear steps to show you where to find them and how to take advantage of them.

You'll find yourself getting to your goals three times faster than most investors. My report will show you the secrets that lead you to astonishing returns: as much as 797% to 1065%.

Yes, that's right. Those are the actual gains my recommendations could have gotten you in the last six months.

My 10-year track record, showing every single trade is available for you to view.

You can be on your way to wealth you never imagined possible. More about this later.

My name is Jeremy Hemming. I'm the editor of The Strategic Investor at $Money $Mint Financial Research. I've lived a long time with the markets and I'm here to show you how to come out way ahead, even in the worst bear markets.

I look at Wall Street in a different way from most. What I really care about is how people behave. What matters to them. How they succeed or trip themselves up.

I guess what I'm saying is that markets are not so much about numbers and deals as they are all about people. Their kids and other loved ones. Their hopes and their fears.

I've been lucky to develop some understanding and some unique tools that have made me, and my followers, very successful.

So I feel driven to share what I know about the markets and help our clients succeed beyond their biggest and best daydreams.

I'll have to tell you a little about my track record so you'll have confidence in what I'm going to tell you in the Free Report, Benefit from the Bear. I certainly don't want to be bragging. I just want you to feel comfortable with me. So here goes.

In 1987 I predicted that the stock market was going to crash and then have a big rally. What happened? The Dow fell 34% in a single day that October and then rallied nearly 73%. That turned out to be right.

In 2007 I warned my subscribers that the real estate market was nothing but a bubble about to crash and take the stock market down with it. Well, I'm sure you'll never forget 2008 – 2009, the worst crash since 1929.

And then in 2009 two weeks from the bottom I publicly announced that the stock market was about to rally. Over the next 7 years, it rose over 249%. So that prediction turned out to be right, too.

I could see these things coming because I've spent literally years studying and learning about market cycles.

I found that these cycles repeat themselves consistently over years and years, even decades.

They appear in all the different parts of the markets and the economy. Some last for 15 years, some for 20 years, and some even for 54 years.

The result of all this research and the discoveries that came out of it is that you and I can rely on principles that are proven and reliable when we make investment decisions.

You can imagine the edge this gives us in seizing profit opportunities.

But don't take my word for it. Listen to what a few of my subscribers have said.

"Jeremy, I've been following you for years and I want to thank you for the amazing amount of money you have saved me and made me." LW, Jan. 2016

"I'm a hedge fund manager. Most hedge funds lost a lot of money in 2015. Thanks to you, my fund did not." AL, Feb. 2016

"I've subscribed to Jeremy's "Strategic Investor" since 2012 – his recommendations are up 63% with only two losers." Remotec Sept. 2015

I can also tell you that well-known top financial experts consult my work.

To mention just one among many events: in July 2014, Nouriel Roubini, James Dines, David Stockman, Paul Craig Roberts, and 12 other economists and money managers joined me in a major economic conference and quoted me extensively in the resulting paper

My goal is to provide my subscribers with information and tools that empower them to confidently make strong, solid decisions in managing their investments. My job, as I see it, is to help each one be successful at this – and to enjoy the ride!

Let me tell you a little story. You may have experienced something like this yourself.

Last Friday night I was at a big cocktail party. Everybody was buzzing about the stock market. How fast and how high it's gone in an almost straight-up run.

“How much further can it go? Isn't it getting dangerous? Won't it have to come down soon? What should I do now?”

Recognize that? It was all the talk at that cocktail party and at parties all over town.

Not a word about bonds.

Yet the bond BEAR market got under way in January. Bond prices had begun slipping and bondholders were losing value every day.

Many haven't yet begun to notice what's going on. It's easy to get blinded by 35 years of a bond bull market. Prices just kept moving up year after year after year.

Until January.

January 17, 2017.

Now we're in for a long slog of seriously eroding value, just the way it's gone for bond cycles at this stage through history.

Mark Cabana , head of U.S. short rate strategy at Bank of America tells us: “I think there's a fundamental rethink in the near-term outlook, as it relates toFederal Reserve policy. The U.S. Treasury (bond) market, like a once sleeping giant, is dragging world rates higher with it.” (Rates up = prices down for bonds)

“The bond market is in an epic bubble of colossal proportions, about to implode“ is the way Peter Boockvar, managing director and chief market analyst at The Lindsey Group put it on CNBC's “Futures Now” last Tuesday.

“We’re moving away from an Obama administration to a Trump administration, which has clearly a different priority set, and the economy is going to have to retool and recalibrate, and that’s going to mean disruption” said George Goncalves, head of rate strategy, Nomura.

Only a few, sophisticated investors will see the disruption that is coming. At first, most investors will be surprised. Then frightened. The whole investment scene will begin to look unfamiliar.

Why? Because what happens in bond markets spreads like a contagion to other parts of the markets.

And there’s more. The national debt, politics, huge deficit spending plans, foreign government liquidation of US treasuries, North Korea, employment, economic growth rates, inflation – all of these, and more, are converging today to set the markets up for collapse.

Here’s how it will go.

Bonds will keep dropping, with a few rallies along the way.

The current exuberant rise in the stock market will continue for a while – perhaps through the rest of this year.

Then, after this 8 or 9-year bull market, prices and earnings and dividend measures will get up to levels that have always killed stocks. The stock market will hit a wall. It will tip over and crash.

Chaos results. What will it look like?

The hottest growth stocks will be chopped down first, along with everybody’s favorite speculative stocks. Some companies will go bankrupt, leaving their stockholders holding the bag.

Toward the end of the crash the stocks of some of America’s greatest companies – those that have grown earnings and dividends for decades – even these will get hit.

But notice this: certain other stocks that haven’t done much for a long time suddenly turn into sleek new performers.

Abruptly these forgotten stocks are producing growth and income for investors who are able to identify them. Precious metals; copper, aluminum, coal; farmland products; commodities.

There won't be much warning as everything changes. Unless you are prepared for the upheaval fueled by the bond bear market you will be doomed to experience sickening losses in the investments you have spent years and years saving for and accumulating.

This is not the first time bonds have been wrung out. High drama surrounded the situation 5 or 6 years before the most recent 35-year bond market cycle got under way.

It was May of 1975 when the announcement:

The city was broke. Flat out of money to pay its bills. $12 Billion dollars in debt.

You couldn't sell your bonds – any bonds - at any price. On some days not a single trader would bid. The bond market was in wipeout mode.

Frantically, the city called on Felix Rohatyn for help.

That highly respected financier, vice chairman of Lehman Brothers, and former ambassador to France agreed to bring his great personal and financial skills to the shattered situation.

Rohatyn managed to forge compromise among angry opponents. He got labor unions and banks to speak to each other. He dragged reform out of them and put the city on its way to sound practices.

Three weeks away from bankruptcy Rohatyn created the Municipal Assistance Corp and pushed the funding of the bonds that saved New York City.

The bonds were a stunning success. Later in the decade, investors could purchase MAC bonds, yielding 10% - TAX FREE - that couldn't be called away for 10 years.

To some, that story is like ancient history. Anybody who has been in the markets less than 35 years has never experienced bond prices going anywhere but up. Unevenly. But mostly up for 35 years.

But before that (1946 – 1981), another long bond cycle spent 35 years with prices going down overall, collapsing as much as 75%.

This year the bond market started on another long cycle like that one, rates going up, prices down.

So what's lurking behind the scene, once again pushing the bond market into bear mode?

Well of course, there's the national debt.

Can we believe we're talking about $18.96 Trillion dollars? The Federal Reserve and U.S. Department of the Treasury tell us it is true.

Furthermore, foreign governments hold about 30% of that debt (in U.S. government bonds).

China holds $1.25 trillion

Japan holds $1.12 trillion

$5.68 trillion in the hands of foreign governments.

Can we imagine what would happen if these governments even began to lose faith in the US as "leader of the free world" – assumed to be interested in protecting other nations and honoring agreements with them as has traditionally been the case?

Think about what downward pressure on bond prices would take place if that happened and some of these foreign holders began to "lessen their holdings," i.e. sell U.S. government bonds?

A few trillion here, a few trillion there could push prices down quite a bit.

Well, that's one snake in the grass that could accelerate the pace of our bond bear market.

Let's spell out the picture in more detail.

Given today's political climate we can probably anticipate an even higher national debt if in fact we do increase infrastructure spending, get tax cuts and less regulation, and impose import tariffs as Mr. Trump declares he will do.

More people have jobs, fewer people are out of a job, and the general pace of the economy is picking up.

This means companies will need more workers. Wages will go up. We will begin to see inflation around the "target" of 2%. If the economy continues to strengthen, inflation will ratchet up from there.

Many of us may have forgotten all about inflation. It hasn't been around for years.

What we know from the record is that more inflation will push bond prices down, push stock prices up for a while, and shift what's hot and what's not in all markets.

Opportunities for profit and wealth building will change rapidly and unexpectedly. You will need to know how to find these opportunities and how to ride them.

Specifically, In order to grab them and build them into a portfolio that protects you and your family from loss and at the same time builds gigantic wealth you will need to know the following:

- ❑ When to sell overvalued bonds and bond funds
- ❑ What to buy to replace income and portfolio balance
- ❑ What stocks will lead in the final, explosive phase of this stock market cycle.
- ❑ What stocks will emerge as the new leaders to own later on for massive profits on the order of doubles and triples.
- ❑ Guideposts on when and at what price to pick up these bargains.
- ❑ Targets to sell at much higher prices and replace with new leaders

My Free Report Benefit from the Bear will cover each and every one of these points. I want you to be among the few who weather the very tricky market cycles converging today and help you on the road to phenomenal, lasting wealth.

In that Report I will reveal which bonds, bond funds, and other investments you must sell immediately.

I will tell you what income investments you can buy with the proceeds while you wait for bonds to reach the much lower prices at which you should buy them again.

I will show you which 3 stocks you must buy today and what price to pay for them. I will also give you my target sell prices on these exceptional stocks.

I will let you in on the investments I'm watching for purchase later on. I'll explain how they fit into the overall market picture - when and at what price to buy them - and the profit you can expect them to give you.

These will be investments not many people know about. You will catch them just as they are emerging from a period of dull market action.

In other words, I'll get you in at the beginning of a long upswing, before others even know about it.

It's like having your own hand-drawn map marked with the alligators and snakes as you skulk through the reeking jungle in search of treasure.

Here's how Nate felt about my Report: "Very cutting edge educational. Jeremy backs up his points with history. I feel confident with him guiding me through this treacherous market."

Chris Tralit had this to say: "Jeremy is one of the best in the investment business. He's been spectacular this past year and writes in a way that is easy for a novice to understand."

As I said earlier, my special Reports are so informative and provide such specific and complete guidance that we usually offer them for $49.00.

We are offering my current Report FREE today for one reason.

The upheaval and change in the markets right now is so radical that we want to save our friends from devastating loss and help them get the windfall profits that are there for those who know what to do.

In just a moment I will explain how to get my Free Report.

But first, let me paint a picture for you of what might happen when you have this Report in your hands.

When you sit down to read it and clearly see the steps I tell you to take you will RELAX. You will feel a big burden slipping off your shoulders.

You'll begin to quickly review what you've had to deal with up to now.

Thinking it over, you realize you bought a lot of bond funds. You thought that was a good way to stay safe.

You weren't so sure the stock market was worth getting into. Really, it hadn't gotten much of anywhere for a long time.

And now you keep hearing that bonds might go down for the first time in decades. You didn't realize it but now you know you could get hit hard.

How come your friend, Lew, has been cruising around in a new BMW and looking kind of smug. What does he know that you don't know? Did he know about the bond market or about some hot stock that really worked? Or what?

You've gotta be careful. You can't let the education fund for your two kids go down. Ye gods, it's only 5 years till the first one hits college.

Same for your retirement funds. You won't really need that for about 15-20 years but boy that time can go by in a hurry.

"Let me look at this Report again," you think. "There's a lot here. But it's easy to read. So I'll go through it from beginning to end."

"OK, I get it. I see what I need to do. It makes perfect sense. I'm gonna call my broker in the morning and get this underway."

You begin to feel almost giddy. This Report told you exactly how to snag some huge profits – build up all your accounts and get rid of stuff that was hurting you.

"Yeah, maybe I'll even be able to update the old car – only who wants a BMW like Lew's? I'll get a LEXUS!" you say to yourself.

"And think I'll start making plans again for that European trip we've been dreaming about."

Some months later you find you're still pretty relaxed. Your investments are working for you. You actually look forward to reading your brokerage statements. Each month your accounts are UP.

Some of your friends are moaning about how their bond funds are killing them. Even Lew asked you how you're doing so well in the market. A little smile (smirk?) spreads over your face.

"That Report from Jeremy made such a difference. It got me going in the right direction in the right stuff," you think.

"From what I can tell about that Report, I'm gonna want more. New investments, more tools."

“In fact, I’ll want follow-up – maybe emails when I should make some changes. New information. Keep me up to date so I know what I’m doing. Step by step – like what I first read in the Report.”

“OK. Enough about the coming future! How do I get there?”

Set off by the bond bear market, investing in America has become perilous. It is imperative that every investor keeps his holdings safe and growing in today's chaotic crosscurrents, sudden shifts, and "fast market" effects.

Benefit from the Bear report and a subscription to my The Strategic Investor takes the extreme hazard out of investing in today's markets.

Side by side with you, I'll guide you away from the land mines and into the little known but enormously profitable spaces.

One of the great values I haven't mentioned yet is that as a subscriber, you get a quick e-letter from me every day, called The Profit Letter. It points out what's relevant to your wealth and what's not in the day's breaking news.

And whenever I unearth any information affecting my recommended stocks – I blast out a Flash Alert laying out what it means for you and what you should do.

Actually less than $100 a year ($89 for one year), or $178 for two years (that's a quarter a day) is a pittance compared to all the value you get.

Add to that your ABSOLUTE MONEYBACK GUARANTEE and three free gifts. You can't do better!

You'll want to read your bonus books right away to make sure you get started on the right foot. Stay out of reach of the crisis blow-ups. Get positioned to profit immensely.

I'd like to make it even easier for you to subscribe since you have taken your valuable time to read my letter.
